EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations.)

These Regulations, which revoke and supersede the State Scheme Premiums (Actuarial Tables) Regulations 1976, prescribe the tables in accordance with which the Secretary of State is required, under sections 44(5) and 45(2) of the Social Security Pensions Act 1975, to calculate the cost of providing or continuing to provide guaranteed minimum pensions, and the difference between the cost of providing guaranteed minimum pensions in accordance with provisions included in a scheme by virtue of section 35(7) of that Act (limited revaluation) and what would have been the cost of providing them in the absence of such provisions, for the purpose of determining the amount of accrued rights premiums, pensioner's rights premiums and limited revaluation premiums.

In accordance with section 46(2) of the Act, the regulations prescribe both standard and alternative tables which are to be applied according to the current yield on investments, determined by reference to the appropriate "market level indicator". These indicators are derived from the market prices of Stock Exchange securities and are constructed in such a way that the value of the indicator is 100 when the average yield on Government securities of certain coupons and terms to redemption is 9% per annum (convertible annually) and, where relevant, the average dividend yield on equities is 4% per annum.

The market level indicators are averaged over the first 5 days on which the London Stock Exchange is open during the month in which the liability for the payment of a premium arises. Where the average value of the indicator is 100, the standard tables are applicable; in other circumstances the alternative tables are applied, producing premiums which are in the same ratio to the corresponding premiums under the standard tables as the average market level indicator is to 100.

For accrued rights premiums and limited revaluation premiums the market level indicator is made up of two components, based on the yields on equities and fixed interest securities respectively, weighted in the ratio 65:35. The equity component of the indicator is taken as 65 times the ratio of 4% to the gross dividend yield (that is, the gross dividend yield applicable to the All-Share Index compiled by the Financial Times, the Institute of Actuaries and the Faculty of Actuaries) on the day in question. The fixed interest component of the indicator is derived from the 25-year gross redemption yield (that is, the gross redemption yield applicable to 25-year British Government Stocks with high coupons compiled by the Financial Times, the Institute of Actuaries and the Faculty of Actuaries) by means of the table in Schedule 7 to the regulations, which converts the change in this yield from the 9% per annum (convertible annually) assumed for the standard table, into the corresponding proportional change in the price of a 13% 25-year stock, and at the same time applies the weighting factor of 35.

For pensioner's rights premiums the market level indicator is derived wholly from the yield on Government securities, in the same way as the fixed interest component of the market level indicator for accrued rights premiums and limited revaluation premiums, except that the 15-year gross redemption yield (that is, the gross redemption yield applicable to 15-year British Government Stocks with high coupons compiled by the Financial Times, the Institute of Actuaries and the Faculty of Actuaries) is taken and is converted by means of the table in Schedule 6 to the regulations into the corresponding proportional change in the price of a 13% 15-year stock.
