The Public Health (Ships) Regulations 1979

PART III

INCOMING SHIPS

Detention of ships, and ships to be taken to mooring stations

22. The authorised officer may for the purposes of these regulations direct that any ship from a foreign port shall on arrival be taken to a mooring station for medical inspection, and he may, if a customs officer is to be the first officer to board the ship, give a notice in writing of such direction to the customs officer, who shall deliver the notice to the master.
