(2) Any reference in these regulations to a person’s father, mother, son, or daughter includes a reference to his step-father, step-mother, step-son or step-daughter, as the case may be, and a person shall be treated as such a relative if he would be such a relative if some person born illegitimate had been born legitimate.

(3) In determining whether a day falls within a period of interruption of employment, the provisions of section 17(1) of the Act (days for which unemployment, sickness and invalidity benefit are payable) and of any regulations made under section 17(1) and (2) shall have effect for the purposes

(5) Unless the context otherwise requires, any reference in these regulations to a numbered regulation is a reference to the regulation bearing that number in these regulations and any reference in a regulation to a numbered paragraph is a reference to the paragraph of that regulation bearing that number.

Days for which persons are to be regarded as incapable of work for the purposes of severe disablement allowance

7.—(1) Subject to paragraph (3), for the purposes of severe disablement allowance a person shall not be treated as incapable of work for any day unless that day would be a day of incapacity for work under section 17(1)(a) of the Act or regulation 3, 5 or 7(1)(f) of the Social Security (Unemployment, Sickness and Invalidity Benefit) Regulations 1983(a) (provisions for determining whether a day is one of incapacity for work for the purposes of sickness or invalidity benefit); and in the case of a person who has not attained retiring age, Sunday or the day which would be substituted for Sunday under regulation 4 of the said regulations of 1983 shall (except for the purposes of the requirements of section 36(2) or (3) of the Act as to the period for which a person must have been incapable of work as those apply in the case of a person who has not previously been entitled to severe disablement allowance) not be treated as a day on which that person is incapable of work.

(2) In determining for the purposes of section 36(2) or (3) of the Act whether a person has been incapable of work for a period of not less than 196 consecutive days, a day shall not be treated as a day on which that person was incapable of work if on that day he was undergoing imprisonment or detention in legal custody.

(3) A person who was incapable of work —

- (a) for not less than 196 consecutive days commencing on or before he attained the age of 20, and

- (a) he is not less than 16 or more than 19 years of age; and
- (b) he attends for not less than 21 hours a week a course of education; so, however, that in calculating the number of hours a week during which he attends that course no account shall be taken of any instruction or tuition which is not suitable for persons of the same age and sex who do not suffer from a physical or mental disability.

(a) S.I. 1983/1598.

(2) In determining the duration of a period of full-time education under paragraph (1), any temporary interruption of that education may be disregarded.

- (c) he fails without good cause to attend for, or submit himself to, medical or other treatment; so however that this disqualification shall not apply to any failure to attend for or to submit to vaccination or inoculation of any kind or to a surgical operation, unless the failure is a failure to attend for or to submit to a surgical operation of a minor character, and is unreasonable; or
- (d) he fails without good cause to observe any of the following rules of behaviour, namely:—
 - (i) to refrain from behaviour calculated to retard his recovery, and to answer any reasonable enquiries (not being enquiries relating to medical examination, treatment or advice) by the Secretary of State or his officers directed to ascertaining whether he is doing so;

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations.)

These regulations contain provisions relating to severe disablement allowance ("allowance"). They are all either made under section 36 of the Social Security Act 1975, as substituted by section 11 of the Health and Social Security Act 1984 ("the 1984 Act"), or are otherwise consequential on section 11. As they are also made earlier than six months from the first day appointed for the coming into force of section 11 (10th September 1984), they are exempted by section 22(1)(b) of the 1984 Act from the requirement under section 10(1) of the Social Security Act 1980 to refer proposals to the Social Security Advisory Committee and are made without reference to that Committee.

Part I of the Regulations relates to their citation, commencement and interpretation.
