EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This Note is not part of the Regulations.)

These regulations amend the Town and Country Planning (Fees for Applications and Deemed Applications) Regulations 1983, which make provision for the payment of fees in respect of certain applications made or deemed to be made under the Town and Country Planning Act 1971. Under those regulations, fees are payable to the local planning authority in respect of applications for planning permission, applications for approval of matters reserved by an outline planning permission and applications for consent for the display of advertisements; and fees are payable to the Secretary of State in respect of applications for planning permission which are deemed to be made in connection with an appeal against an enforcement notice or in connection with an application for an established use certificate.

The main alterations made by these regulations are as follows:—

- (a) with the exception referred to below, all fees are increased (by approximately 12½%);
- (b) there is a reduction of £20 in the fee in relation to applications, and deemed applications, for planning permission to continue a use of land or retain a building or works without complying with a condition imposed on a previous grant of planning permission (the new amount being £27);
- (c) a new regulation (regulation 5A) is added which provides exemption from payment of a fee in respect of an application or deemed application relating to a change of use of a building or other land from a purpose of one of the classes specified in the Schedule to the Town and Country Planning (Use Classes) Order 1972 to another purpose of the same class in a case where planning permission is required solely because the change is prohibited by a condition imposed on a previous grant of planning permission;
- (d) regulation 8 (fees for deemed applications) is amended (i) to provide that the fee shall be paid when the applicant or appellant is so requested by the Secretary of State, instead of at the time when the relevant appeal is made or the relevant application is referred to the Secretary of State; (ii) to provide exemption from payment of a fee in the case of an enforcement appeal if there is an undetermined appeal before the Secretary of State against refusal of planning permission for the development to which the enforcement notice relates; and (iii) to provide for the repayment of the fee in the case of an established use certificate appeal or application if the Secretary of State determines that he has no power to grant planning permission under section 95(3) of the 1971 Act;
- (e) a new paragraph (paragraph 1A) is included in Part I of Schedule 1 and provides that the fee payable in respect of an application or deemed application for permission for the retention of a building or works, or the continuance of a use, which has been constructed, carried out or begun without planning permission is to be the same as that which would have been payable if the application had been for planning permission to construct or carry out the building or works or to institute the use;
- (f) paragraph 7(1) of Part I of Schedule 1 (which provides for payment of a special rate of fee where applications relating to several alternative proposals are submitted to the local planning authority on the same date) is amended to provide that the special rate does not apply unless the applications are submitted by or on behalf of the same applicant.

Some minor drafting amendments have also been made.
