EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

Under Part I of the Abolition of Domestic Rates Etc (Scotland) Act 1987 (“the Act”), as amended by the Local Government Finance Act 1988, rates ceased to be leviable in respect of domestic subjects with effect from 1st April 1989. Domestic subjects are defined in section 2(3) of the Act, as amended.

Section 2(4) of the Act, as amended, empowers the Secretary of State to vary the definition of domestic subjects so as to include or exclude “such lands and heritages or parts thereof or class or classes of lands and heritages or parts thereof as may be prescribed.” The Secretary of State has already exercised this power in the Abolition of Domestic Rates (Domestic and Part Residential Subjects) (Scotland) Regulations 1988 (S.I.1988/1477) and in the Abolition of Domestic Rates (Domestic and Part Residential Subjects) (Scotland) Regulations 1989 (S.I. 1989/241).

Regulation 3 of these Regulations further varies the definition of domestic subjects to exclude those premises (“women’s refuges”) managed by a voluntary organisation for the temporary accommodation of persons who have left their homes as a result of physical violence or mental cruelty or threats of such violence or cruelty from persons to whom they are married or with whom they are, or were, co-habiting. This has the effect of rendering women’s refuges liable to rates.

Domestic subjects are not entered in the valuation roll. Regulation 4 therefore prescribes the date from which the insertion of an entry in the valuation roll concerning lands and heritages is to have effect where any lands and heritages or parts of them cease to be domestic subjects by virtue of these Regulations.

As a consequence of these Regulations, the Standard and Collective Community Charges (Scotland) Amendment (No.2) Regulations 1989 (S.I. 1989/1476) revoke regulation 4 of the Standard and Collective Community Charges (Scotland) Regulations 1988 (S.I. 1988/631) which prescribes women’s refuges as a class of premises in respect of which collective community charge and collective community water charge are payable.
