PART III

RADIO

Introductory

11.—(1) In addition to the limits on the holding of licences to provide national, local and restricted radio services set out in paragraph 2(1) of Part III of Schedule 2 to the Act (no person to hold more than one licence for national radio, 20 licences for local radio or six licences for restricted radio services) there shall be the limits set out in this Part; and for this purpose particular categories of radio services shall be ascribed points according to the table set out below.

TABLE III

Category of service	Points
National radio	25
Category A local radio	15
Category B local radio	8
Category C local radio	3

Category of service	Points
Category D local radio	1
Restricted radio service provided otherwise than for a particular event	1

- (2) For the purpose of the table a local radio service falls—
- (a) into category A if the number of persons over the age of 15 resident in the area for which the service is provided exceeds 4.5 million;
 - (b) into category B if the number of such persons exceeds 1 million but does not exceed 4.5 million;
 - (c) into category C if the number of such persons exceeds 400,000 but does not exceed 1 million; and
 - (d) into category D if the number of such persons does not exceed 400,000.

(3) In the case of a service provided on an amplitude modulated (AM) frequency the relevant number of points applicable to the service by virtue of the table shall be reduced by one third.

(4) A service which, on the day on which the licence to provide it is granted, falls into a particular category for the purposes of the table shall continue to be regarded as falling into that category as long as any increase or decrease in the relevant number of persons over the age of 15 (which would otherwise take the service outside that category) does not exceed 10%.

(5) A person who is a participant with more than a 20% interest in a body corporate which is the holder of a licence to provide a service falling within any of the categories set out in the table, but who does not control that body, shall, for the purposes of the limits set out in article 12, be treated as the holder of a licence to provide a service to which one half of the points (which would otherwise be applicable to such a service) are ascribed.

(6) In this Part references to the area for which a particular service is provided are references to the measured coverage area determined by the Radio Authority for that service.

Limits

12.—(1) Subject to the following paragraphs, a person shall not at any time hold licences to provide national, local or restricted radio services such that the total number of points applicable to such services, calculated in accordance with article 11, exceeds 15% of the total number of points so calculated applicable to all such services in respect of which licences have been granted and have not ceased to have effect.

(2) Such a person as is described in paragraph (1) may hold licences such that the total number of points applicable to the services to which they relate exceeds 15% of the total number of points applicable to all such services if the excess is solely attributable to a reduction in the number of points applicable to all such services.

- (a) provided for an area which is substantially the same as that for which the service provided by the person mentioned in paragraph (1) is provided; and

(4) Where such a person as is described in paragraph (3) is a participant with more than a 20% interest in a body corporate which is the holder of a licence to provide such a local radio service as is described in that paragraph he may not be a participant with more than a 20% interest in any other such body corporate.

(5) Nothing in this article shall prevent a person from holding a licence to provide local radio services if—

- (a) that person was, immediately before the grant of the licences, a local radio contractor for an area which was substantially the same as the area in respect of which those licensed services are provided; and
- (b) he provided two or more different programme services on different frequencies pursuant to his contract.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

Schedule 2 to the Broadcasting Act 1990 contains restrictions on the holding of licences which may be awarded by the Independent Television Commission and the Radio Authority. Various provisions of that Schedule provide for those restrictions to be supplemented by Order. This Order contains supplementary restrictions. It is divided into five parts; Part I is concerned with general matters.

Part II relates to television. The limit contained in Schedule 2 to the Act that no person may hold more than two licences for regional Channel 3 services is supplemented so that a person may not hold licences for two specified large areas or, until such licences have been granted, for two specified contiguous areas. In addition the holder of a regional Channel 3 licence who has a non-controlling interest in a second Channel 3 licensee company may not have more than a 20% interest in a third such company, nor more than a 5% interest in a fourth.

The holder of a national Channel 3 licence may not have more than a 20% interest in a second national Channel 3 licensee company, nor more than a 5% interest in a third. Similar limits are applied to Channel 5. The holder of a licence for national or regional Channel 3 or Channel 5 may not have more than a 20% interest in a company which holds a licence to provide a service falling into another of those categories, nor more than a 5% interest in a third such company. Those who invest in, but do not control, Channel 3 and Channel 5 licensee companies are limited to a 20% interest in a third regional Channel 3 company and a 20% interest in a second Channel 3 or Channel 5 company if one company provides a national Channel 3 service or Channel 5. Further investment in Channel 3 and Channel 5 is limited to 5%; and those with more than a 5% interest in three Channel 3 or Channel 5 companies are limited to a 5% investment in any other such companies.

Part III concerns radio. It provides for a points scheme by virtue of which various categories of radio licence are allocated points according to the size of the population in the areas for which they are provided. Subject to minor exceptions, no person may hold radio licences such that the number of points attributable to them exceeds 15% of the points allocated to the radio system as a whole. In addition one person is limited to two licences for the largest type of local radio services and six licences for the next size down (four if a national radio licence is also held). Subject to limited exceptions, a local radio licensee may not hold, nor have more than a 20% interest in a company which holds, a licence to provide a local radio service which overlaps substantially with his service.

Part IV contains supplementary limits for newspapers. The proprietor of a national newspaper may not have more than a 20% interest in a company which holds a licence to provide a local radio service and vice versa. The proprietor of a national or local newspaper may not have more than a 20% interest in a company licensed to provide a domestic satellite service, nor more than a 5% interest in a second such company and vice versa.

Part V concerns national public telecommunications operators. It provides that a national public telecommunications operator with an annual turnover of more than £2 billion, his associate, a person who controls either of them or a body controlled by such an operator or his associate may not hold a licence to provide a Channel 3 or 5 service, a domestic satellite service or a national radio service. Subject to a limited exception, a national public telecommunications operator may not hold a licence to provide a local delivery service. But after 1st April 1994 such an operator may bid for such a licence if it is for an area not at that time covered by a licence authorising the provision of a local delivery service or a prescribed diffusion service.
