is and which people have it. These people include:	A the birth mother	B the birth father if he was married to the child's birth mother	when the child was born	C the birth father if he was not married to the child's	birth mother when the child was born	but he now has a residence order	or he now has a court order	which gives him parental	responsibility

- or he now has a formal "parental responsibility agreement" with the birth mother or he has since married the birth mother
- Birth Parents
- The birth mother is the woman who carried the child.
- is the husband of a birth mother whether or not he is the genetic father of the child.
 This does not apply if it can be shown that the husband did not consent to her treatment. The birth father
- the man (whether or not he is the genetic father of the child) with whom a birth mother received treatment at a licensed treatment centre if (a) the birth mother is unmarried(b) the birth mother is married but her husband did not consent to
 - the treatment.
- There will be no birth father when a birth mother is unmarried and is treated alone.
 - Notice

If you are not sure who the birth father is, the licensed treatment centre will be able to advise you.
