2002 No. 2227

LANDLORD AND TENANT, ENGLAND

The Long Residential Tenancies (Principal Forms)
(Amendment) (England) Regulations 2002

Made - - - - - 29th August 2002

Coming into force - - - - - 30th September 2002

The Secretary of State, in exercise of the powers conferred upon him by paragraph 4(1) of Schedule 10 to the Local Government and Housing Act 1989⁽¹⁾, and of all other powers enabling him in that behalf, hereby makes the following Regulations:

Citation, commencement and extent

1.—(1) These Regulations may be cited as the Long Residential Tenancies (Principal Forms) (Amendment) (England) Regulations 2002 and shall come into force on 30th September 2002.

(2) These Regulations extend to England only.

Amendment

2.—(1) Forms 1 and 2 in the Schedule to the Long Residential Tenancies (Principal Forms) Regulations 1997⁽²⁾ are amended as follows.

(2) For notes 2 and 3 at the end of each form, substitute—

“Note 2: Schedule 10 to the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 provides that a tenant of residential property under a long residential tenancy has a right, at the end of the original term of the tenancy, to continue as a tenant on the same terms as before unless the landlord ends the tenancy in accordance with the provisions of that Act. But see also Note 3.

Note 3: In certain circumstances, Schedule 10 does not apply and the landlord can end your tenancy by giving notice in accordance with the ordinary requirements of the law. These circumstances include cases where:

(a) you pay more than a low rent (see paragraph 2(4) and (5) of Schedule 10) unless the property is a house and the tenancy has been extended under section 14 of the Leasehold

(1) 1989 c. 42; see the definition of “prescribed” in section 45(1) of the Housing Act 1988 (c. 50), which has effect by virtue of paragraph 2(2) of Schedule 10 to the 1989 Act. The Secretary of State can exercise the power under this paragraph only in relation to England: see article 2 of, and Schedule 1 to, the National Assembly for Wales (Transfer of Functions) Order 1999 (S.I. 1999/672).

(2) S.I. 1997/3008.

Reform Act 1967, in which case Schedule 10 applies regardless of whether a low rent is being paid;

- (b) the property has a high rateable value (see paragraph 2 of Schedule 1 to the Housing Act 1988, unless the long tenancy was granted after 31st March 1990, in which case paragraph 1(2A) of Schedule 10 applies);
- (c) the tenancy does not meet certain requirements for the existence of an assured tenancy set out in Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the Housing Act 1988—for instance because the landlord is the Crown, a local authority or another exempt landlord;
- (d) the property is a flat whose lease was extended under Chapter 2 of Part 1 of the Leasehold Reform Housing and Urban Development Act 1993, by virtue of section 59 of that Act.

The above is not intended to give a full account of all the circumstances in which Schedule 10 does not apply. Legal advice should be sought if there is any doubt as to whether Schedule 10 applies in a particular case.”(3)

Application

3. Nothing in these Regulations affects the validity of a notice served before the coming into force of these Regulations.

Signed by authority of the First Secretary of State

29th August 2002

Tony McNulty
Parliamentary Under Secretary of State
Office of the Deputy Prime Minister

(3) Paragraph 1(2A) of Schedule 10 was inserted by paragraph 31 of the Schedule to the References to Rating (Housing) Regulations 1990 (S.I. 1990/434).

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations amend two forms which are prescribed for the purposes of Schedule 10 to the Local Government and Housing Act 1989 (security of tenure on ending of long residential tenancies).

The forms affected are set out in the Schedule to the Long Residential Tenancies (Principal Forms) Regulations 1997. Changes are made to the notes at the end of Forms 1 and 2 following the amendment of section 16 of the Leasehold Reform Act 1967 by section 143 of the Commonhold and Leasehold Reform Act 2002 (which was brought into force on 26th July by S.I.2002/1912). There are other drafting changes.
