PART 3

DEDUCTION AND REPAYMENT OF TAX

CHAPTER 1

DEDUCTION AND REPAYMENT

Deduction and repayment by reference to employee's code

Deduction and repayment of tax by reference to employee's code

21.—(1) On making a relevant payment to an employee during a tax year, an employer must deduct or repay tax in accordance with these Regulations by reference to the employee's code, if the employer has one for the employee.

(2) The employer must deduct or repay tax by reference to the employee's code, even if the code is the subject of an objection or appeal.

Commencement Information

I1 Reg. 21 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

The cumulative basis

The cumulative basis

22. An employer must deduct or repay tax on the cumulative basis, unless these Regulations provide otherwise.

Commencement Information

I2 Reg. 22 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

Cumulative basis: deduction and repayment

23.—(1) This regulation provides for deductions and repayments on the basis of total payments to date (the cumulative basis).

(2) In this regulation—

(a) TT is the total tax to date relating to an employee;

Status: Point in time view as at 06/04/2012.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the The Income Tax (Pay As You Earn) Regulations 2003, PART 3. (See end of Document for details)

- (b) UT is any tax not deducted because of the overriding limit when the last relevant payment was made to the employee, and is nil if the payment in question is the first relevant payment to the employee in any tax year;
- (c) PT is the previous total tax to date relating to the employee, and is nil if the payment in question is the first relevant payment to the employee in any tax year.
- (3) The employer must, before making any relevant payment to the employee, calculate TT.
- (4) If $TT + UT$ exceeds PT, the employer must deduct the excess from the relevant payment on making the payment.
- (5) But if the employee's code is a K code, the deduction is not to exceed the overriding limit, subject to 62(6) (notional payments).
- (6) If $TT + UT$ is less than PT, the employer must repay the difference to the employee on making the payment, subject to regulations 25(4) (extra payment made before main payment) and 64 (trade disputes).
- (7) If $TT + UT$ equals PT, the employer must neither deduct nor repay tax when making the payment.
- (8) "Previous total tax to date" means the total tax to date corresponding to the employee's total payments to date and the employee's code—
- (a) at the date of the last preceding relevant payment, or
- (b) if later, at the date on which the employer complied with this regulation as if a relevant payment had been made.
- (9) But—
- (a) if the employee's code is an amended code, and
- (b) the employee's previous code was not used on the cumulative basis,
- "previous total tax to date" means the total net tax deducted by the employer.
- (10) Paragraphs (2)(c), (8) and (9) are subject to regulations 43(9) and (10), 52(11) and (12), 53(4) and 61(4) (which modify the meaning of previous total tax to date in certain circumstances).

I3 Reg. 23 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

Cumulative basis: employee not paid weekly or monthly

- 24.—(1) This regulation applies if—
- (a) an employer normally makes main relevant payments to an employee at regular intervals which are longer than a week, other than monthly, and
- (b) the employee's code is used on the cumulative basis.
- (2) The first main relevant payment in a tax year is treated for the purposes of calculating the deduction or repayment of tax as having been made at the end the period which—
- (a) starts on the first day of the tax year, and
- (b) finishes at the end of the employee's normal regular payment interval.
- (3) Subsequent main relevant payments in the tax year are treated for the purposes of calculating the deduction or repayment of tax as having been made at the end of the period which—
- (a) starts the day after the date on which the previous main relevant payment is treated as having been made (by paragraph (2) or this paragraph), and

- (b) finishes at the end of the employee's normal regular payment interval or the last day of the tax year (if earlier).
- (4) If the employee's main relevant payments are normally made at regular intervals which are longer than a year, any such payment in a tax year is treated, for the purposes of calculating the deduction or repayment of tax, as made on the last day of that tax year.
- (5) But, in every case, the employer must record the actual date of every payment in the deductions working sheet.
- (6) This regulation does not apply if the payment falls within regulation 31(1) (payments in short payment periods).

Commencement Information

I4 Reg. 24 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

Cumulative basis: subsidiary PAYE income of employee paid weekly or at greater intervals

- 25.—(1) This regulation applies if—
- (a) an employee's main relevant payments are normally made at regular intervals of a week or more,
 - (b) the employee's code is used on the cumulative basis, and
 - (c) the employer makes a payment in respect of overtime or other extra earnings (the "extra payment").
- (2) For the purposes of calculating the deduction or repayment of tax, the extra payment is treated as made on the same date as that on which the main relevant payment in the payment period is due to be paid or is due to be treated as paid by regulation 24 (employee not paid weekly or monthly).
- (3) But paragraph (4) applies if the extra payment is actually made before the date on which the main relevant payment in the payment period is due to be paid (disregarding the effects of regulation 24).
- (4) A repayment which would (but for this paragraph) be due under regulation 23(6) on making the extra payment must not be paid to the employee, but must instead be added to the previous total tax (as defined by regulation 23(8)) on making the next relevant payment.
- (5) This regulation does not apply if the extra payment is made in a short payment period (but regulation 31 applies instead if that period contains an extra pay day).
- (6) "Payment period"—
- (a) in the case of an employee normally paid weekly, means a tax week,
 - (b) in the case of an employee normally paid monthly, means a tax month,
 - (c) in the case of an employee normally paid at other regular intervals, has the meaning given in paragraph (7).
- (7) In the case mentioned in paragraph (6)(c)—
- (a) the first payment period in a tax year starts on 6th April and finishes at the end of the employee's normal regular payment interval, and
 - (b) subsequent payment periods in the tax year start the day after the end of the previous payment period and finish—
 - (i) at the end of the employee's normal regular payment interval, or
 - (ii) on 5th April (if earlier).

Status: Point in time view as at 06/04/2012.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the The Income Tax (Pay As You Earn) Regulations 2003, PART 3. (See end of Document for details)

(8) “Short payment period” means the last payment period in a tax year if, because of paragraph (7)(b)(ii), it is shorter than the previous payment periods.

(9) “Extra pay day” has the meaning given in regulation 31(4).

Commencement Information

I5 Reg. 25 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

The non-cumulative basis

The non-cumulative basis

26.—(1) An employer must deduct tax in accordance with regulation 27 (the non-cumulative basis) from any relevant payment made to an employee if—

- (a) the Inland Revenue direct, or
- (b) these Regulations provide,

that the non-cumulative basis is to apply.

(2) If this regulation applies then regulation 22 (cumulative basis) does not apply.

Commencement Information

I6 Reg. 26 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

Non-cumulative basis: general rule for deductions

27.—(1) On making a relevant payment, the employer must deduct the amount of tax which would have been deductible in accordance with the appropriate tax tables, by reference to the employee’s code, if the payment had been made on the first day of the tax year.

(2) This is subject to—

regulation 28	modification of general rule
regulation 29	aggregation of payments.

Commencement Information

I7 Reg. 27 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

Non-cumulative basis: modification of general rule

28.—(1) Paragraphs (2) to (5) modify the general rule in regulation 27(1) (the non-cumulative basis) in certain circumstances.

(2) If regulation 30 (employee not paid weekly or monthly) applies to the employee’s main relevant payments, the employer must deduct from a relevant payment the amount of tax which would have been deductible, by reference to the employee’s code, if the payment (whether or not it is a main relevant payment) had been made on the date given by that regulation.

(3) If the employer does not normally make relevant payments to the employee at regular intervals, the employer must deduct from a relevant payment the amount of tax which would have been deductible, by reference to the employee's code—

- (a) if the payment is the first payment in the tax year, on the date it is made, or
- (b) in any other case, on the date found by counting forward x days starting on 5th April, where x is the number of days found by starting with the date of the previous relevant payment and counting forward to the date of the payment in question.

(4) But if two or more relevant payments are made in the same tax week, the employer must deduct from the second or subsequent relevant payment the amount of tax which (subject to regulation 29(5)) would have been deductible, by reference to the employee's code, if that payment were made at the date given by paragraph (3) for the first payment.

(5) If the employee's code is a K code, the deduction is not to exceed the overriding limit, subject to regulation 62(6) (notional payments).

Commencement Information

18 Reg. 28 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

Non-cumulative basis: aggregation of payments

29.—(1) Paragraph (2) applies if—

- (a) relevant payments are normally made to an employee at regular intervals of a week or more, and
- (b) the employee's code is used on the non-cumulative basis.

(2) If the relevant payment is the second or subsequent relevant payment made to the employee during the payment period (as defined by regulation 25(6)), the amount of tax to be deducted must be—

- (a) calculated by reference to the aggregate of the relevant payments made to the employee during the payment period (as defined by regulation 25(6)),
- (b) increased by any tax not deducted because of the overriding limit when the previous relevant payment in that payment period was made to the employee, and
- (c) reduced by the amount of tax calculated when the employer made the previous relevant payment in that payment period.

(3) But, for the purposes of the aggregate, any effects of regulation 30(2) (regular payments treated as made at later date) must be disregarded.

(4) Paragraph (5) applies if relevant payments to an employee—

- (a) are normally made at regular intervals of less than a week, or
- (b) are made at irregular intervals of less than a week.

(5) If the relevant payment is the second or subsequent relevant payment made to the employee during a tax week, the amount of tax to be deducted must be—

- (a) calculated by reference to the aggregate of the relevant payments made to the employee in the tax week,
- (b) increased by any tax not deducted because of the overriding limit when the previous relevant payment in that tax week was made to the employee, and
- (c) reduced by the amount of tax calculated when the employer made the previous relevant payment in that tax week.

Status: Point in time view as at 06/04/2012.

Changes to legislation: There are currently no known outstanding effects for the The Income Tax (Pay As You Earn) Regulations 2003, PART 3. (See end of Document for details)

Commencement Information

I9 Reg. 29 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

Non-cumulative basis: employee not paid weekly or monthly

30.—(1) This regulation applies if—

- (a) an employer normally makes main relevant payments to an employee at regular intervals which are longer than a week, other than monthly, and
- (b) the employee's code is used on the non-cumulative basis.

(2) Each main relevant payment in a tax year is treated for the purposes of calculating the deduction of tax as having been made at the end the period which—

- (a) starts on 6th April, and
- (b) finishes at the end of the employee's regular payment interval.

(3) If the employee's main relevant payments are normally made at regular intervals which are longer than a year, any such payment in a tax year is treated, for the purposes of calculating the deduction of tax, as made on 5th April in that tax year.

(4) But, in every case, the employer must record the actual date of every payment in the deductions working sheet.

Commencement Information

I10 Reg. 30 in force at 6.4.2004, see reg. 1

Payments in short payment periods

31.—(1) An employer must deduct tax on the non-cumulative basis from any relevant payment made to an employee in a short payment period which includes an extra pay day, even if the employee's code is normally used on the cumulative basis.

(2) Paragraph (1) does not apply if the employee's code is the basic rate code.

(3) If—

- (a) the employee's total payments to date do not exceed the employee's total free pay to date, and
- (b) the employee's code is normally used on the cumulative basis, the employer must not deduct any tax from relevant payments made in a short payment period which includes an extra pay day.

(4) "Extra pay day" means the last day in a tax year on which a main relevant payment is due to be made to an employee if—

- (a) the employee's main relevant payments are normally made weekly or at greater intervals which results in the number of pay days varying from tax year to tax year (solely because of the number of days in a calendar year), and
- (b) the day falls in a short payment period.

(5) "Short payment period" has the meaning given in regulation 25(8).

Nil tax code: no deductions or repayments

33.—(1) If an employee's code is the nil tax code the employer must not deduct or repay any tax, and so regulation 22 (cumulative basis) does not apply.

(2) But—

- (a) if the nil tax code is an amended code, and
- (b) the Inland Revenue so direct, regulation 22 applies to the next relevant payment the employer makes in the same tax year, and the employer must make any repayment of tax due.

Simplified deduction scheme

Simplified deduction scheme for personal employees

34.—(1) The Inland Revenue may [^{F3}, subject to paragraph (1A),] authorise the employer of a personal employee to deduct tax from each relevant payment made to the employee by reference to the appropriate taxable payments in the simplified tax tables.

[^{F4}(1A) But authorisation under paragraph (1) must not be given on or after 6th April 2012.]

(2) The amount of tax to be deducted must be—

- (a) calculated by reference to the aggregate of the relevant payments made to the authorised personal employee during the payment period, and
- (b) reduced by the amount of tax calculated, by reference to that aggregate, when the employer made the previous relevant payment in the same payment period.

(3) In this regulation—

“payment period” means the interval for which free pay is calculated shown on the deductions working sheet issued in accordance with regulation 35(3);

“personal employee” means—

- (a) a person employed at the employer’s home to provide domestic or personal services for the employer or the employer’s family, or “simplified tax tables” means the parts of the tax tables which are prepared by the Board of Inland Revenue for use under this regulation.

- (c) the amount of the free pay,
- (d) the amount of the taxable payments, and
- (e) the amount of tax, if any, deducted on making the relevant payment, or to be deducted or accounted for under regulation 62(4) or (5) (notional payments).

(4) On ceasing to employ an authorised personal employee, the employer must return the completed deductions working sheet in respect of that employee to the Inland Revenue.

(5) Before 20th May following the end of a tax year, an employer who, at the end of that tax year, was employing one or more authorised personal employees must send to the Inland Revenue—

- (b) a return which complies with paragraph (6).

(6) The employer must declare and certify in the return—

- (a) how many deductions working sheets are being sent,
- (b) that those are all the deductions working sheets which have been issued to the employer and not already returned to the Inland Revenue, and
- (c) that the information contained in the deductions working sheets is fully and truly stated to the best of the employer's knowledge and belief.

(7) The return is treated for the purposes of these Regulations as the return required by regulation 73(1) (annual return of relevant payments liable to deduction of tax).
