(7) Following receipt of any representations from the parties or, if earlier, at the end of the period for making such representations specified in the request sent under paragraph (4) or (6), the Secretary of State shall, if he decides to appoint a person or persons to consider and determine the dispute—

(12) The adjudicator may, when determining the appeal require the Primary Care Trust to enter into a general medical services contract with the prospective contractor on terms to be agreed between the parties or, where necessary, determined under the pre-contract dispute resolution procedure in section 4(4) of the 1990 Act (NHS contracts) or under regulation 9 of the 2004 Regulations (whichever is applicable) but may not require the prospective contractor to proceed with the contract.

(14) The determination of the adjudicator shall be binding upon the parties.

Part payment of periodic payments where a contractor does not enter into a general medical services contract

38. If a contractor does not enter into a general medical services contract which takes effect immediately after its default contract ceases to have effect, and—

- (b) its default contract terminates on any day other than the last day of a quarter of the financial year, the Primary Care Trust must pay to the contractor a proportion of any payment that would have been payable to the contractor under—

- (ii) article 36(5) to (7), in the case of periodic payments under article 36(5) to (7) that fall due quarterly, had the contract terminated on the last day of a quarter of the financial year, and that proportion is to be calculated by multiplying that payment by the fraction produced by dividing the number of days in the quarter during which the contractor was providing services under the default contract by the total number of days in the quarter.

Conditions, set offs etc. relating to payments under a default contract

39.—(1) Payments are only payable under article 36 or 38 in circumstances where the contractor has made available to the Primary Care Trust any information which the Primary Care Trust does not have but needs, and which the contractor either has or could reasonably be expected to provide, in order for the Primary Care Trust to be able to calculate the payment.

(2) The obligations to make payments under article 36 and 38 are subject to any right that the Primary Care Trust may have to set off against any amount payable to the contractor under the default contract any amount—

- (b) takes effect, for payment purposes, on 1st April 2004;
- (c) contains a condition to the effect that any payment that has been made under the default contract that could have been made, had the contractor entered into a general medical services contract on or before 31st March 2004—
 - (i) as a payment on account under the general medical services contract, shall be treated as a payment on account under the general medical services contract (and for these purposes any payment of one twelfth of a final global sum equivalent under the default contract shall be treated as a payment on account in respect of a payable global sum monthly payment),
 - (ii) as a payment under the general medical services contract, shall be treated as a payment under the general medical services contract, and accordingly any condition that attaches, or is to be attached, to such a payment, when made under a general medical services contract, by virtue of the Statement of Financial Entitlements or the Premises Costs Directions, is attached to that payment; and

- (d) where appropriate, contains a condition to the effect that any payment that has been made under the default contract pursuant to article 36(8) is set off, equitably, against any payment for equivalent services provided under the general medical services contract.

Persons not able to enter into a default contract

41.—(1) Where a person to whom article 13(2) or (3) applies is unable to enter into a default contract because the Primary Care Trust with whom he would have entered into a default contract is not satisfied of the matters specified in paragraphs (5) or (6) of that article or because he is performing relevant service, that Primary Care Trust may pay to that person any payment that he would have been entitled to receive under the default contract, had he been able to enter into a default contract, or may pay him a proportion thereof (having regard, amongst other matters, to the cost of any temporary arrangements made by the Primary Care Trust for the provision of primary medical services to his patients) for as long as he is not able to enter into—

- (b) takes effect, for payment purposes, on 1st April 2004;
- (c) in the case of a general medical services contract, contains a condition to the effect that any payment that has been made under paragraph (1) that could have been made—
 - (i) as a payment on account under the general medical services contract, shall be treated as a payment on account under the general medical services contract (and for these purposes any payment of one twelfth of a final global sum equivalent made under paragraph (1) shall be treated as a payment on account in respect of a payable global sum monthly payment),
 - (ii) as a payment under the general medical services contract, shall be treated as a payment under the general medical services contract,

and accordingly any condition that attaches, or is to be attached, to such a payment, when made under a general medical services contract, by virtue of the Statement of Financial Entitlements or the Premises Costs Directions, is attached to that payment; and

- (d) in the case of a default contract, contains a condition to the effect that any payment that has been made under paragraph (1) that could have been made as a payment under the default contract, had the contractor entered into the default contract on or before 31st March 2004, shall be treated as a payment under the default contract, and accordingly any condition attached to such a payment by virtue of this Order is attached to that payment.

Claims under the Statement of Fees and Allowances

42.—(1) Notwithstanding the repeal of the 1992 Regulations, claims may still be made for payments under the Statement of Fees and Allowances by any person who may be entitled to such a payment, provided that the claim is made within any period stipulated in the Statement of Fees and Allowances as being the period during which a claim for the payment is to be made.

(2) If a claim is made outside that stipulated period, the Primary Care Trust may extend that period for up to six years from the date on which the circumstances which gave rise to the claim first arose.

(3) If the Primary Care Trust refuses the claim, or considers that the amount to be paid out in respect of the claim is significantly lower than the amount claimed, the arrangements for appeals set out in paragraph 80 of the Statement of Fees and Allowances are to apply.

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order sets out transitional arrangements to cover the replacement of arrangements for general medical services under section 29 of the National Health Service Act 1977 with general medical services contracts under section 28Q of that Act (as inserted by section 175(1) of the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 (“the Act”).

Part 2 of the Order sets out the circumstances in which those currently providing general medical services will be entitled to enter into a general medical services contract and, if they are unable to enter into such a contract on or before 31st March 2004, a default contract under section 176(3) of the Act. It also sets out the arrangements for medical practitioners who are suspended, unable to provide services under a contract on grounds of physical or mental ill-health or performing relevant service. Articles 4, 11 and 13 provide a right of appeal to the Secretary of State where a Primary Care Trust refuses to enter into a general medical services or a default contract because it is not satisfied that the criteria relating to suspended or unfit medical practitioners are met or where the Primary Care Trust has failed to enter into a general medical services contract by the time a person’s entitlement to such a contract expires.

Part 3 provides for the continuation of arrangements by the Primary Care Trust to provide primary medical services to the patients of medical practitioners who are suspended or unable to perform services on the grounds of physical or mental ill-health.

Articles 16 to 25 specify the services which must be provided in default contracts and certain types of general medical services contracts. Articles 26 and 27 prescribe the premises which must be specified in default and general medical services contracts entered into on or before 31st March 2004 and the practice area which must be specified in default contracts. Articles 28 to 32 specify who must be included in the list of patients for default contracts and certain types of general medical services contracts and whether that list must be open or closed to applications from patients. Article 33 deals with the procedure for dispute resolution in default contracts. Article 34 provides for certain types of general medical services contracts to be capable of termination on the basis of a dismissal from employment which occurred between 31st March 2004 and the commencement of the general medical services contract.

Part 5 sets out the financial arrangements for default contracts, for general medical services contracts which follow default contracts and for persons unable to enter into default contracts.

Part 6 contains a modification to section 4 of the National Health Service and Community Care Act 1990.
