
STATUTORY INSTRUMENTS

2004 No. 653

The Ministry of Defence Police (Conduct) Regulations 2004

Representation

19.—(1) The supervising officer must appoint the investigating officer or some other member of the force, who is an officer of at least the rank of inspector, or counsel or a solicitor to present the case against the member concerned.

(2) The member concerned may conduct his case in person or be represented by a member of the force selected by him or, if he has given notice in accordance with regulation 15 that he wishes to be legally represented, by counsel or a solicitor.