remains in the same post or temporary, in accordance with and subject to paragraphs 3 and 23A.2 to 23A.4.

23A.2. Having decided to award a TLR, the relevant body must determine whether to award a first TLR (“TLR1”) or a second TLR (“TLR2”) and its value, in accordance with its pay policy, provided that—

- (a) the annual value of a TLR1 shall be no less than £6,500 and no greater than £11,000;
- (b) the annual value of a TLR2 shall be no less than £2,250 and no greater than £5,500; and
- (c) if the relevant body awards TLRs of different annual values to two or more teachers, the minimum difference in the annual value between each award of a TLR1 is £1,500 and between each award of a TLR2 is £1,500.

23A.3. Before awarding a TLR the relevant body must be satisfied that the teacher’s duties include a significant responsibility that is not required of all classroom teachers and that—

- (a) is focused on teaching and learning;
- (b) requires the exercise of a teacher’s professional skills and judgement;
- (c) requires the teacher to lead, manage and develop a subject or curriculum area; or to lead and manage pupil development across the curriculum;
- (d) has an impact on the educational progress of pupils other than the teacher’s assigned classes or groups of pupils; and
- (e) involves leading, developing and enhancing the teaching practice of other staff.

23A.4. Before awarding a TLR1, the relevant body must be satisfied that the significant responsibility referred to in paragraph 23A.3 includes in addition line management responsibility for a significant number of people.

23B.1. If the relevant body determines (“the determination”), whether as a result of a change to its pay policy or to the school’s staffing structure or otherwise, either—

- (a) that the teacher’s duties are no longer to include the significant responsibility for which the TLR was awarded; or
- (b) that his significant responsibility (whether or not this has changed) merits, in accordance with its pay policy and staffing structure, a TLR of a lower annual value (“the new payment”), it shall pay him the safeguarded sum.

23B.2. For the purposes of paragraph 23B.1, the safeguarded sum in the case of a teacher referred to in—

- (a) paragraph 23B.1 (a) is the value of the TLR to which he was entitled immediately before the determination; and
- (b) paragraph 23B.1 (b) is the difference between the value of the TLR to which he was entitled immediately before the determination and the new payment.

23B.3. Within one month of the date of the determination, the relevant body must notify the teacher in writing of—

- (a) the reason for the determination;
- (b) the date on which the teacher’s TLR ends and, if applicable, from which the new payment comes into effect;

- (d) the value of the safeguarded sum;
- (e) the date on which the safeguarding period will end; and
- (f) where a copy of the school’s staffing structure and pay policy may be inspected.

- (d) the teacher is placed on a higher point on the pay scale set out either in paragraph 17.3 or in paragraph 19.2, or he first becomes entitled to be paid on the pay scale set out in paragraph 19.2 as a result of a subsequent determination; and the combined value of that point and any new payment exceeds the combined value of his original salary and the safeguarded sum; or
- (e) the teacher’s employment at the school ends other than in circumstances to which paragraph 47 applies, whichever is the earliest.

23B.5. The relevant body shall review the duties assigned to a teacher who is paid a safeguarded sum and allocate such additional duties to the teacher as it reasonably considers are appropriate and commensurate with the safeguarded sum, for as long as the teacher continues to be paid the safeguarded sum. The teacher shall not be paid the safeguarded sum if he unreasonably refuses to carry out such additional duties, provided that the teacher is notified of the relevant body’s determination to cease paying the safeguarded sum at least one month before it is implemented, in accordance with paragraph 4.3.

- (c) the value at 31st December 2005 of the point at which he is placed on the pay scale set out either in paragraph 17.3 or in paragraph 19.2, taking into account the annual determination required by paragraph 4.1 (“the original salary”);

(e) where a copy of the school's staffing structure and pay policy may be inspected.

- (c) the teacher ceases to be a classroom teacher;

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order amends the School Teachers' Pay and Conditions Document 2004 ("the 2004 Document"). Its provisions come into effect on 6th May 2005, except for paragraphs (e), (f), (m) and (o)-(r) of article 2, which come into effect on 1st September 2005.

By article 2(l), the Order inserts new paragraph 23A in the 2004 Document that enables relevant bodies to award Teaching and Learning Responsibility payments to classroom teachers (qualified teachers who are paid on the main or upper pay scale) from 1st January 2006. These new payments, known as "TLRs" (a new definition is inserted in paragraph 1.2), are for undertaking a sustained additional responsibility within the context of the relevant body's staffing structure for the purpose of ensuring continued delivery of high-quality teaching and learning and for which he is made accountable. Before awarding a TLR, the relevant body must be satisfied that the responsibility meets certain criteria, set out in new paragraph 23A.3. Before awarding a TLR1, the relevant body must in addition be satisfied that the teacher has line management responsibility for a significant number of people.

The relevant body must determine the value of the TLR: the annual value of a TLR1 must be no less than £6,500 nor greater than £11,000 and of a TLR2 must be no less than £2,250 or greater than £5,500. If a relevant body makes awards of different values in each band, there must be a difference in the value of each award of at least £1,500. When making this determination or any other determination regarding the remuneration of a teacher, the relevant body must have regard to its pay policy and to the teacher's particular post within its staffing structure (new paragraph 4.1A of the 2004 Document, inserted by article 2(c)).

The award may last while the teacher remains in post or may be temporary. If it is temporary the notice of the relevant body's determination (required under paragraph 4.3 of the 2004 Document) must set out the date on which, or the circumstances in which (if occurring earlier), it will cease (article 2(d)).

The Order also makes provision for safeguarding the payment of a TLR for a limited period of up to 3 years ("the safeguarding period") if the relevant body subsequently decides to withdraw or reduce the award of a TLR, following a review of its pay policy or staffing structure or otherwise (new paragraph 23B of the 2004 Document). The method of calculating the safeguarding period (which applies both to paragraph 23B and to paragraph 47A of the 2004 Document) is set out in new paragraph 1.10, inserted in the 2004 Document by article 2(b). The relevant body may allocate additional duties to a teacher who is entitled to receive a "safeguarded sum". The duties must be ones it reasonably considers are appropriate and commensurate with the safeguarded sum. If the teacher unreasonably refuses to undertake the additional duties, his entitlement to the safeguarded sum must cease provided the teacher is given one month's notice before the change is implemented.

No new management allowances may be awarded to classroom teachers after 31st December 2005, as a result of changes made to paragraph 23 of the 2004 Document (article 2(i)-(k)). Under new paragraph 23C, from 1st January 2006 all management allowances will be safeguarded until 31st December 2008 at the latest, if not replaced by a TLR of at least the same value. The relevant body may allocate additional duties to a teacher who is entitled to receive a safeguarded sum under this paragraph. The duties must be ones it reasonably considers are appropriate and commensurate with the safeguarded sum. If the teacher unreasonably refuses to undertake the additional duties, his entitlement to the safeguarded sum must cease provided the teacher is given one month's notice before the change is implemented.

The amendment introduced by article 2(m) makes points awarded to teachers paid on the unqualified teachers' pay spine permanent.

New paragraph 47A, introduced in the 2004 Document by article 2(r), provides for the safeguarding of the salaries of teachers paid on the leadership pay spine (including the head teacher) or on the advanced skills teachers' pay spine, if the relevant pay ranges are reduced or posts are deleted or re-designated as a result of changes to the school's pay policy or staffing structure. Safeguarding is limited to a maximum of 3 years and the relevant body may allocate additional duties to a teacher who is entitled to receive a safeguarded sum. The duties must be ones it reasonably considers are appropriate and commensurate with the safeguarded sum. If the teacher unreasonably refuses to undertake the additional duties, his entitlement to the safeguarded sum must cease provided the teacher is given one month's notice before the change is implemented.
