within areas of special scientific interest, which imposes restrictions on the exercise of rights over that land by persons who can be bound by such an agreement. These powers were transferred to the Nature Conservancy Council under the Nature Conservancy Council Act 1973 (c. 54). The Environmental Protection Act 1990 (c. 43) provided for the winding up of that body and set up the Nature Conservancy Council for England to which the Nature Conservancy Council's functions were transferred. That body was renamed English Nature by section 73 of the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 (c. 37) ("the 2000 Act").

M7 1949 c. 97. Under this Act, the Natural Environment Research Council was given the power to enter into an agreement with owners, lessees and occupiers of land, where their land appeared to it to be land which it was in the national interest to manage as a nature reserve, in order to ensure that land is managed as such. These powers were also transferred to the Nature Conservancy Council, and then to the National Conservancy Council for England, which was renamed English Nature, by virtue of the provisions specified in the previous footnote.

Designation

3. The Secretary of State is designated as the competent national authority for the purposes of Article 3(2) of the Council Regulation.

Standards of good agricultural and environmental condition

- 4.—(1) The standards of good agricultural and environmental condition set out in the Schedule apply as minimum requirements for the purposes of Article 5(1) of the Council Regulation.
- (2) If, in relation to any land subject to an agri-environment commitment, a requirement of the agri-environment commitment conflicts with a standard in the Schedule, any breach of the standard which is a necessary and direct consequence of meeting that requirement shall not be treated as a non-compliance.
- (3) Except in relation to any land set aside pursuant to Article 54 or 55(b) of the Council Regulation, a farmer shall be exempt from a standard in the Schedule if he satisfies the Secretary of State that he should be exempted from it—
  - (a) because, by virtue of any power or authorisation conferred by or under any enactment, a pipeline, cable or pylon is being or will be laid through, or constructed on or across, the land, he is unable to ensure the standard is met;
  - (b) because, as a result of maintenance of a pipeline, cable or pylon being carried out or to be carried out under statutory authority on the land, he is unable to ensure that the standard is met:
  - (c) in the interests of human or animal health or safety; or
  - (d) because such an exemption is necessary, either to enable a serious cause of harm to plant health or serious infestation of any pest or specified weed to be treated, or to permit measures to be taken to prevent the development of any such cause of harm or infestation.
- (4) In relation to land set aside pursuant to Article 54 or 55(b) of the Council Regulation, a farmer shall be exempt from a standard in the Schedule if he satisfies the Secretary of State that he should be exempt from it on any of the grounds specified in sub-paragraphs (a) to (g) of regulation 4(5) of the Common Agricultural Policy Single Payment Scheme (Set-aside) (England) Regulations 2004 M11.

Status: Point in time view as at 12/02/2007.

Permanent pasture

- 5.—(1) If it is established that the ratio in Article 3(1) of the Commission Regulation is decreasing, the Secretary of State shall prohibit farmers from converting land under permanent pasture, in accordance with Article 4(1) of that Regulation.
- (2) If it is established that the obligation in Article 3(2) of the Commission Regulation cannot otherwise be met, the Secretary of State shall oblige farmers to reconvert land to permanent pasture in accordance with Article 4(2) of that Regulation.
  - (3) But the Secretary of State must not—
    - (a) prohibit a farmer from converting land under permanent pasture where the farmer turned that land into permanent pasture in the circumstance mentioned in Article 4(3) of the Commission Regulation, or
    - (b) require a farmer to reconvert land where the farmer turned that land into permanent pasture in the circumstance mentioned in Article 4(3) of the Commission Regulation and later converted it out of permanent pasture.

Competent Control Authorities

- 6.—(1) For the purposes of Article 42(1) of the Commission Regulation, the Secretary of State is the specialised control body who shall bear the responsibility of carrying out the controls in respect of the statutory management requirements under [F7numbers 10 and 13 to 18] of Annex III of the Council Regulation.
- [F8(1A)] For the purposes of Article 42(1) of the Commission Regulation, the Environment Agency is the specialised control body which shall bear the responsibility of carrying out the controls in respect of the statutory management requirements under numbers 2, 3 and 4 of Annex III of the Council Regulation.]
- (2) For the purposes of the derogation in Article 42(2) of the Commission Regulation, the Rural Payments Agency M12 shall have the responsibility to carry out the controls in relation to all other cross-compliance requirements and standards.
- [<sup>F9</sup>(3) Natural England shall carry out controls for the purposes of Article 9 and Chapters I and III of Title III of the Commission Regulation, if requested to do so by the Secretary of State or the Rural Payments Agency.
- (4) If Natural England is requested by the Secretary of State or the Rural Payments Agency to carry out controls referred to in paragraph (3), it shall send a provisional control report in relation to the controls carried out to the Secretary of State or the Rural Payments Agency (as the case may be).]
