7. Policy background

7.1 Under the provisions of the Parliamentary Commissioner Act 1967, as amended by the Parliamentary and Health Service Commissioners Act 1987 and the Parliamentary Commissioner Act 1994, the Parliamentary Ombudsman investigates complaints of maladministration against government departments and certain other public bodies. Schedule 2 to the 1967 Act lists the government departments and non-departmental public bodies currently within the Ombudsman's jurisdiction. Schedule 4 to the 1967 Act lists a number of tribunals whose administrative staff fall within the Ombudsman's jurisdiction provided that they are drawn from or supported in specified ways by those departments or other bodies listed in Schedule 2. The Parliamentary Ombudsman's jurisdiction is updated on an annual basis. This Order is part of that process.

7.2 To be eligible for inclusion in Schedule 2 by Order in Council any body under consideration must meet the relevant criteria as set out in Section 4 of the 1967 Act. Section 4(3) of the 1967 Act provides that an Order in Council may only insert an entry in Schedule 2 if it relates to:

- a government department; or
- a corporation or body whose functions are exercised on behalf of the Crown; or
- it relates to a corporation or body -
 - which is established by virtue of Her Majesty's prerogative or by an Act of Parliament or on Order in Council or order made under an Act of Parliament or which is established in any other way by a Minister of the Crown in his capacity as a Minister or by a government department;
 - at least half of whose revenues derive directly from money provided by Parliament, a levy authorised by an enactment, a fee or charge of any other description so authorised or more than one of those sources; and
 - which is wholly or partly constituted by appointment made by Her Majesty or a Minister of the Crown or government department.

To summarise, all government departments (including executive agencies) and non-departmental public bodies (NDPBs) should be brought within the Ombudsman's jurisdiction unless there are compelling reasons for not doing so.
