The Court of Protection Rules 2007

PART 4

COURT DOCUMENTS

Subsequent use of court documents

18.—(1) Where a document has been filed or disclosed, a party to whom it was provided may use the document only for the purpose of the proceedings in which it was filed or disclosed, except where—

- (a) the document has been read to or by the court or referred to at a public hearing; or
 - (b) the court otherwise permits.
- (2) Paragraph (1)(a) is subject to any order of the court made under rule 92(2).
