

Status: This is the original version (as it was originally made). This item of legislation is currently only available in its original format.

SCHEDULE

The Policing Protocol

Review

43. The Home Secretary has a duty to issue the policing Protocol, to which all parties must have regard when discharging their functions. This Protocol will be subject to periodic review, in particular during the first term of office of the first PCCs.