EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Order)

This Order brings into force a revised Code of Practice in relation to youth conditional cautions. The Code is revised under section 66G(6) of the Crime and Disorder Act 1998 (c. 37) (“the 1998 Act”), and sets out certain matters as to when youth conditional cautions may be given and the conditions that may be attached. The previous Code was brought into force by the Crime and Disorder Act 1998 (Youth Conditional Cautions: Code of Practice) Order 2010 (S.I. 2010/127) (which is revoked by virtue of article 3 of this Order).

Youth conditional cautions are cautions given in respect of an offence committed by the offender to which specified conditions are attached, and are provided for in Chapter I of Part IV of the 1998 Act. A relevant prosecutor or authorised person may decide that a youth conditional caution should be given if the five requirements set out in section 66B of the 1998 Act are satisfied.

The Code of Practice has been revised to reflect changes made by sections 136 to 138 of the Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Act 2012 (c. 10) (“the 2012 Act”), which come into force at the same time as the Code. Additionally, following public consultation, elements of the Code have been revised to provide greater clarification on certain points.
