The Court of Protection Rules 2017

PART 16
DISCLOSURE

General or specific disclosure

16.2.—(1) The court may either on its own initiative or on the application of a party make an order to give general or specific disclosure.

(2) General disclosure requires a party to disclose—

- (a) the documents on which that party relies; and
- (b) the documents which—
 - (i) adversely affect that party's own case;
 - (ii) adversely affect another party's case; or
 - (iii) support another party's case.

(3) An order for specific disclosure is an order that a party must do one or more of the following things—

- (a) disclose documents or classes of documents specified in the order;
- (b) carry out a search to the extent stated in the order; or
- (c) disclose any document located as a result of that search.

(4) A party's duty to disclose documents is limited to documents which are or have been in that party's control.

(5) For the purposes of paragraph (4) a party has or has had a document in that party's control if—

- (a) it is or was in that party's physical possession;
- (b) that party has or has had possession of it; or
- (c) that party has or has had a right to inspect or take copies of it.
