

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM TO
THE ENVIRONMENT AND WILDLIFE (LEGISLATIVE FUNCTIONS) (EU EXIT)
(AMENDMENT) REGULATIONS 2019

2019 No. 1424

1. Introduction

- 1.1 This explanatory memorandum has been prepared by the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs ('Defra') and is laid before Parliament by Command of Her Majesty.
- 1.2 This memorandum contains information for the Joint Committee on Statutory Instruments.

2. Purpose of the instrument

- 2.1 This statutory instrument amends the Environment and Wildlife (Legislative Functions) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 ('SI 2019/473'). This is to ensure that the Secretary of State can set out the detail of key derogations in Commission Regulation (EC) No 865/2006 by regulations, rather than 'in writing', which may restrict the powers of the Secretary of State to simply making administrative measures. It also provides for regulations made by the Secretary of State in respect of those derogations to be subject to parliamentary scrutiny under the negative resolution procedure.

Explanations

What did any relevant EU law do before exit day?

- 2.2 The Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora ('CITES') is implemented in the EU through a set of regulations known as the EU Wildlife Trade Regulations ('WTR'), which put in place a system of permits and certificates for cross-border movement of specimens of endangered species. The WTR include:
 - Principal Regulation – Council Regulation (EC) No 338/97 on the protection of species of wild fauna and flora by regulating trade therein ("Regulation 338/97");
 - Implementing Regulation – Commission Regulation (EC) No 865/2006 laying down detailed rules concerning the implementation of Council Regulation (EC) No 338/97 ("Regulation 865/2006").
- 2.3 Article 7(1) to (3) of Regulation 338/97 provides for derogations from the permitting regime, in relation to: specimens of species born and bred in captivity or artificially propagated; specimens in transit; and specimens which are personal and household effects. The Article also gives the Commission legislative powers to set out the regulatory detail of the derogations. The Commission has done so in Regulation 865/2006.

Why is it being changed?

- 2.4 SI 2019/473 provides for the Secretary of State to set out the regulatory detail of the Article 7(1) to (3) derogations "in writing", rather than "in regulations".

- 2.5 This instrument amends SI 2019/473 to correct the drafting, so that the Secretary of State can instead set out the regulatory detail “in regulations”. This will ensure the Secretary of State has the necessary legislative powers to amend Regulation 865/2006 (in respect of the Art 7(1) to (3) derogations) after EU Exit.
- 2.6 This instrument also amends SI 2019/473, to provide that regulations made by the Secretary of State (in respect of those derogations) will be subject to Parliamentary scrutiny under the negative resolution procedure.

What will it now do?

- 2.7 This instrument amends SI 2019/473, which in turn amends Articles 7 and 18 of Regulation 338/97 on exit day. Consequently, on exit day, Regulation 338/97 will provide that the Secretary of State may set out the detail of the Article 7(1) to (3) derogations in regulations. Any such regulations made by the Secretary of State will be subject to negative resolution procedure.

3. Matters of special interest to Parliament

Matters of special interest to the Joint Committee on Statutory Instruments

- 3.1 This instrument amends SI 2019/473 to correct the drafting, so that the Secretary of State can set out the regulatory detail of the Article 7(1) to (3) derogations “in regulations”, ensuring the Secretary of State has the necessary legislative powers to amend Regulation 865/2006. Regulations made by the Secretary of State will be subject to parliamentary scrutiny under the negative resolution procedure.

7. Policy background

What is being done and why?

- 7.1 This instrument is necessary to ensure that Article 7(1) to (3) of Regulation 338/97 operates properly in the UK after our exit from the EU.

- 7.3 Given that these provisions enable the Secretary of State to make changes to restrictions on trade of endangered species, regulations made by the Secretary of State in this regard will be subject to parliamentary scrutiny under the negative resolution procedure.

8. European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018/Withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union
