PART 2

Functions relating to aquatic animal health

Meaning of “the appropriate authority”

- 2.—(1) In this Part, “the appropriate authority” means—
 - (a) in the case of regulations applying in relation to England, the Secretary of State;
 - (b) in the case of regulations applying in relation to Wales, the Welsh Ministers;
 - (c) in the case of regulations applying in relation to Scotland, the Scottish Ministers;
 - ^{F1}(d)
- (2) But “the appropriate authority” is the Secretary of State if consent is given—
 - (a) in the case of regulations applying in relation to Wales, by the Welsh Ministers;
 - (b) in the case of regulations applying in relation to Scotland, by the Scottish Ministers;
 - ^{F2}(c)

Power to amend Annex 1A to Commission Regulation (EC) No 1251/2008

6.—(1) The appropriate authority may by regulations amend Annex 1A to add, vary or remove an exotic or non-exotic disease where the amendment is necessary or appropriate in the light of—

- (a) the relevant criteria specified in paragraphs (3) and (4); and
- (b) any assessment carried out which is relevant to the determination of whether a disease is an exotic or non-exotic disease for the purposes of Annex 1A.

(2) Any assessment which is relied upon for the purposes of paragraph (1) must have been approved by the Secretary of State and the other responsible authorities.

(3) The criteria applicable in relation to an exotic disease are that—

- (a) the disease is not established in [^{F7}Great Britain];
- (b) its pathogen is not known to be present in [^{F8}Great Britain]; and
- (c) if introduced into [^{F9}Great Britain]—

- (i) the disease may have a significant adverse economic impact on aquaculture ^{F10}..., due to—

- (aa) the likely production losses in the aquaculture sector as a result of the introduction; or
 - (bb) the likely loss of opportunities to export aquaculture animals or products to third countries as a result of the introduction; or
 - (ii) the disease may have a detrimental harmful impact on wild aquatic animal populations of species.
- (4) The criteria in relation to a non-exotic disease are that—
 - (a) at least two regions which, either individually or taken together, cover territory that is located in more than one constituent [F11GB] territory, are free of the disease;
 - (b) the disease—
 - (i) may have a significant adverse economic impact on aquaculture if introduced into those regions due to—
 - (aa) the production losses in the aquaculture sector as result of the introduction and the annual costs associated with the disease and its control, which are likely to exceed, in the case of each region, 5% of the value of the production of susceptible aquaculture animal species produced in the region; or
 - (bb) the loss of opportunities to export aquaculture animals or products to third countries as a result of the introduction; or
 - (ii) the disease has shown, where it occurs in [F12Great Britain], to have a detrimental harmful impact on wild aquatic animal populations of species;
 - (c) the disease is difficult to control and contain at farm level or mollusc farming area level without stringent control measures and restrictions on trade;
 - (d) zones or compartments that are free from the disease can be established and maintained in those regions in a manner that is cost-effective;
 - (e) there is a risk that the disease would establish itself in those regions if aquaculture animals were placed on the market; and
 - (f) reliable and simple tests are available to detect the presence of the disease in aquaculture animals susceptible to the disease.
- [F13(5) In this regulation—
 - “Annex 1A” means Annex 1A to Commission Regulation \(EC\) No 1251/2008^{M4};
 - “constituent GB territory” means England, Wales or Scotland, as the case may be.]

Power to amend Annex 3 to Commission Regulation (EC) No 1251/2008

7.—(1) The appropriate authority may by regulations amend Annex 3 where the amendment is necessary or appropriate in the light of an assessment of the risks to the health of aquatic animals in ^[^{F14}Great Britain] from the introduction of aquaculture animals or products reared or produced in a third country, taking into account—

- (a) the legislation of the third country;
- (b) the way in which the relevant competent authority and its inspection services are organised, the powers of the inspection services, the supervision to which the inspection services are subject and the means at their disposal to apply the legislation effectively;
- (c) the requirements in or under the legislation of the third country that are in force in relation to the production, manufacture, handling, storage and dispatch of live aquaculture animals intended for export to ^[^{F15}Great Britain];
- (d) the assurances given by the relevant competent authority as to the compliance of the health requirements that apply in the third country with, or their equivalence to, the aquatic animal health requirements in ^[^{F16}Great Britain];
- (e) the extent to which exports of live aquaculture animals from the third country have complied with aquatic animal health requirements in ^[^{F17}Great Britain];
- (f) the results of any assessment ^[^{F18}made of the relevant competent authority on behalf of the appropriate authority] or any report submitted ^[^{F19}to the appropriate authority] by the relevant competent authority ^[^{F20}at the request of the appropriate authority] on any inspections carried out;
- (g) the health status of farmed and wild aquatic animals in the third country, including any exotic animal diseases and any aspects of the animal health situation in that country in general which might pose a risk to aquatic animal health in ^[^{F21}Great Britain];

- (h) the regularity, speed and accuracy with which the third country has supplied information on the existence of infectious or contagious aquatic animal diseases in its territory, and in particular, the notifiable diseases listed by the World Organisation for Animal Health; and
- (i) the rules on the prevention and control of aquatic animal diseases, including on imports from other countries, which are in force in the third country and the way in which they have been implemented.

(2) Any assessment which is relied on or used for the purposes of paragraph (1) must be appropriate to the circumstances and must have been approved by the Secretary of State and the other responsible authorities.

(3) In the case of a [^{F22}country or territory] which is not listed in Annex 3 or which is only listed in Annex 3 as regards part of its territory, the assessment must demonstrate that the relevant competent authority ^{F23}... is able to provide appropriate guarantees regarding the compliance of aquaculture animals and products reared or produced in that country [^{F24}or territory (as the case may be)] with relevant animal health requirements in [^{F25}Great Britain] .

(4) Regulations under paragraph (1) may, among other things, add, vary or remove an entry in Annex 3.

(5) In this regulation—

“Annex 3” mean Annex 3 to Commission Regulation (EC) No 1251/2008;

[^{F26}“relevant competent authority”, in relation to a country or territory, means the authority or authorities of that country or territory concerned with official responsibility for aquatic animal health.]

EXPLANATORY NOTE

(This note is not part of the Regulations)

These Regulations are made in exercise of the powers conferred by the European Union (Withdrawal) Act 2018 (c. 16) in order to address failures of retained EU law to operate effectively and other deficiencies (in particular the deficiency referred to in paragraph (f) of section 8(2)) arising from the withdrawal of the United Kingdom from the European Union. Part 2 makes provision for certain functions of the European Commission of a legislative character under Council Directive 2006/88/EC on animal health requirements for aquaculture animals and products thereof, and on the prevention and control of certain diseases in aquatic animals (OJ No. L 328, 24.11.2006, p.14) to be exercisable instead by the Secretary of State, Welsh Ministers, Scottish Ministers or the Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs. Part 3 makes provision for certain functions of the European Commission of a legislative character under Council Directive 2000/29/EC on protective measures against the introduction into the Community of organisms harmful to plants or plant products and against their spread within the Community (OJ No. L 169, 10.7.2000, p.1) to be exercisable instead by the Secretary of State, Welsh Ministers or the Department of Agriculture, Environment and Rural Affairs. An impact assessment has not been produced for this instrument as no, or no significant, impact on the private or voluntary sector is foreseen.
