2. Purpose of the instrument

- 2.1 This instrument is made under the Sanctions and Anti-Money Laundering Act 2018 ('the Sanctions Act') to make amendments to the Russia (Sanctions) (EU Exit) Regulations 2019 (S.I. 2019/855) ('the 2019 Regulations'). These amendments will introduce new trade sanctions measures and amend existing trade sanctions measures, for the purposes set out in regulation 4 of the 2019 Regulations.

Bringing the instrument into force on the same day is necessary given the international situation and it is appropriate for these measures to enter into force as soon as possible.
- 3.2 The territorial application of this instrument includes Scotland and Northern Ireland.

4. Extent and Territorial Application

- 4.1 The territorial extent of this instrument is the same as the territorial extent of the instrument which it amends: that is, the whole of the United Kingdom ('UK').
- 4.2 Subject to paragraph 4.3, the territorial application of this instrument is also the same as the territorial application of the instrument that it amends. That is, it applies to the whole of the UK.
- 4.3 This instrument also applies to conduct by UK persons where that conduct is wholly or partly outside the UK, and some parts of it also apply to conduct by any person in the territorial sea adjacent to the UK.

5. European Convention on Human Rights

- 5.1 The Secretary of State for Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Affairs has made the following statement regarding human rights:

"In my view the provisions of the Russia (Sanctions) (EU Exit) (Amendment) (No. 3) Regulations 2022 are compatible with the Convention rights."

6. Legislative Context

- 6.1 The Sanctions Act establishes a legal framework which enables Her Majesty's Government to impose sanctions for a number of purposes, which include that it is in the interests of international peace and security and furthering a foreign policy objective of the government of the UK.
- 6.2 This instrument is made in exercise of powers conferred by sections 1, 5, 15, 16, 17, 19, 21, 45 and 54(1) and (2) of the Sanctions Act. It makes amendments to the 2019 Regulations, which were made under the Sanctions Act for discretionary purposes within section 1(2) of the Sanctions Act.

7. Policy background

What is being done and why?

- 7.1 This instrument amends the 2019 Regulations to impose and amend prohibitions and requirements in relation to trade sanctions measures.
- 7.2 Following its illegal annexation of Crimea in 2014 Russia has continued to pursue a pattern of aggressive action towards Ukraine. This has included use of military force to invade Ukraine, announced by President Putin on 24 February 2022 as a "special military operation", and the recognition of 'Donetsk People's Republic' and 'Luhansk People's Republic' as independent states, and the deployment of Russian military to those regions,
- 7.3 The UK has called on Russia to cease its military activity, withdraw its forces from Ukraine and Crimea and fulfil its international commitments including under the 1975 Helsinki Act, the Minsk Protocols and 1994 Budapest memorandum. The UK continues to reiterate its support for Ukraine and in addition to withdrawing its troops from Ukrainian soil, has called on Russia to end its support for the separatists, and enable the restoration of security along the Ukraine-Russia border under effective and credible international monitoring.
- 7.4 UK policy is focussed on ending the crisis in Ukraine and on assisting Ukraine to secure its borders against Russia's aggressive actions, ensuring a stable, prosperous and democratic future for all its citizens, and has been unwavering in its support for the country's territorial integrity and sovereignty.
- 7.5 These sanctions are part of a broader policy of measures which includes: diplomatic pressure; trade sanctions; economic and financial sanctions and designations. Change will therefore be sought through diplomatic pressure, and other measures, supported by implementing sanctions in respect of actions undermining the territorial integrity, sovereignty and independence of Ukraine.
- 7.6 This instrument amends Part 5 (Trade) of the 2019 Regulations which contains trade sanctions measures and makes related consequential amendments.
- 7.7 This instrument provides for a number of trade restrictions. These include:
- to replace the existing prohibitions relating to dual-use items with new prohibitions on the export, supply and delivery, making available and transfer of dual-use items to, or for use in, Russia, irrespective of end-user (as well as the provision of related technical assistance, financial services, funds and brokering services).

- to prohibit the export, supply and delivery, making available and transfer of critical industry items to, or for use in, Russia (as well as related technical assistance, financial services, funds and brokering services).

- 7.8 This instrument also makes amendments to the 2019 Regulations to provide for exceptions from these measures, licensing and enforcement, including the creation of criminal offences.
- 7.9 This instrument is accompanied by two statutory reports that are required to be published under section 46 of the Sanctions Act in relation to the 2019 Regulations.
- 7.10 First, and in accordance with section 46(2) of the Sanctions Act, the report explains why the Minister considers that the carrying out of the stated purposes of the regulations being amended would meet one or more of the discretionary purposes (i.e. purposes other than implementing UN obligations) set out in the Sanctions Act; why there are good reasons to pursue those purpose; and why the Minister considers that the imposition of sanctions is a reasonable course of action for pursuing those purposes.
- 7.11 Secondly, and in accordance with section 18 of the Sanctions Act, a report has been produced that identifies the offences contained in this instrument and the prohibitions and requirements to which they relate; explains why there are good reasons for those prohibitions and requirements to be enforceable by criminal proceedings; and explains why there are good reasons for the prescribed penalties in relation to those offences. Offences include, for example, contravening the principal prohibitions in the Regulations (e.g. breaching one of the financial sanctions prohibitions) or trying to circumvent those principal prohibitions

8. European Union Withdrawal and Future Relationship

- 8.1 This instrument itself does not relate to withdrawal from the European Union / trigger the statement requirements under the European Union (Withdrawal) Act. The 2019 Regulations related to the withdrawal of the UK from the EU because they replaced, with substantially the same effect, the previous EU Russia and Ukraine-related sanctions regimes.

9. Consolidation

- 9.1 The 2019 Regulations have been amended by the Russia (Sanctions) (EU Exit) (Amendment) (No. 2) (S.I. 2022/194), the Russia (Sanctions) (EU Exit) (Amendment) Regulations 2022 (S.I. 2022/123); Sanctions (EU Exit) (Miscellaneous Amendments) (No. 2) Regulations 2020 (S.I. 2020/590); the Sanctions (EU Exit) (Miscellaneous Amendments) (No. 4) Regulations 2020 (S.I. 2020/951); and by the Sentencing Act 2020 (c.17). This instrument does not consolidate previous instruments. The Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office will keep the need for consolidation under review.

10. Consultation outcome

- 10.1 No consultation has been carried out on this instrument. The Explanatory Memorandum to the 2019 Regulations explains the consultation that has been carried out in relation to the Sanctions Act.
- 10.2 There is neither a requirement in the Sanctions Act for public consultation on instruments made under the Act, nor is there any other legal obligation to consult in respect of this instrument. HMG will continue engagement with stakeholders on the implementation of UK sanctions.

11. Guidance

11.1 In accordance with section 43 of the Sanctions Act, guidance has been published in relation to the prohibitions and requirements under the 2019 Regulations. This guidance will be updated to reflect the amendments to those Regulations made by this instrument.

12. Impact

12.1 The measures will prohibit UK businesses from exporting dual-use items to the Russian Federation. These items accounted for 11.8% of UK goods exports to Russia in 2021.

12.2 The direct impact to UK entities from a prohibition on the export of dual-use regulation items and of critical industry items, will be the opportunity cost of future profit they may have made from the export of these goods. The overall impact on business, charities or voluntary bodies will depend on how long these measures might remain in effect, which it is not possible to forecast. However, in a scenario which assumes the measures will be in place for the full appraisal period (9 years), the FCDO's Impact Assessment finds the net direct cost to UK business of the sanctions measures to be £278m per year.

12.3 The FCDO assesses that the economic costs of this measure over the nine year appraisal period could range under different scenarios from £2.4bn (low), £2.5bn (central) and £3.5bn (high). The regulatory cost, as the cost to business, is assessed to be below £156,000, by estimating the annual cost of a licensing application to be exempt from the new policy. Additionally, there will be a direct cost to HM Government of processing licence applications and enforcing these under the updated regulatory framework, which is likely to be below £184,000 per year.

12.4 A full Impact Assessment for The Russia (Sanctions) (EU Exit) (Amendment) (No.3) Regulations 2022, is submitted with this memorandum and published alongside the Explanatory Memorandum on the legislation.gov.uk website. The effect of the Amendment Regulations is to amend Part 5 (Trade) of the 2019 Regulations which contains trade sanctions measures.

12.5 An impact assessment was produced for the primary legislation and can be found here.

13. Regulating small business

13.1 The legislation applies to activities that are undertaken by small businesses.

13.2 No specific action is proposed to mitigate regulatory burdens on small businesses.

13.3 The FCDO does not believe it is possible to exempt smaller businesses from the requirements to comply with the measures introduced by this instrument, as this could provide a route for the circumvention or evasion of sanctions.

14. Monitoring & review

14.1 Section 30 of the Sanctions Act requires regular reviews of the 2019 Regulations which are amended by this instrument. Standalone reviews of this instrument are not required.

However, reviews of the 2019 Regulations which take place after this instrument enters into force will include a review of the measures introduced by this instrument. As such, the Minister does not consider that a review clause in this instrument is appropriate.
