Part One: Explanation, and context, of the Instrument

4. Overview of the Instrument

What does the legislation do?

- 4.1 The Armed Forces Compensation Scheme (“the AFCS”) provides benefits to or in respect of a person by reason of his or her illness, injury or death caused (wholly or partly) by service in the regular armed forces or reserve forces on or since 6 April 2005.
- 4.2 The instrument makes two amendments to the Armed Forces and Reserve Forces (Compensation Scheme) Order 2011 (S.I. 2011/517) (“the Principal Order”) and comes into force on 8 April 2024. It increases the value of the Armed Forces Independence Payment (“AFIP”) and the maximum amount that may be paid out of AFIP to Motability.

Where does the legislation extend to, and apply?

- 4.3 The extent of this instrument (that is, the jurisdiction(s) which the instrument forms part of the law of) is England and Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.
- 4.4 The territorial application of this instrument (that is, where the instrument produces a practical effect) is England and Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

5. Policy Context

What is being done and why?

- 5.1 The instrument provides for the annual increase in the rate of AFIP and the maximum amount that may be paid out of AFIP to Motability payable under the Principal Order.

Uprating is discretionary but the long-established practice is to increase the rates annually in April, in line with the Government's general approach of increasing disability-related benefits in line with inflation (calculated using the September Consumer Price Index (CPI), and in line with the rates that the Department for Work and Pensions uses for social security disability benefits. The rate of AFIP is in line with the combined highest rates of Personal Independence Payment (PIP). The maximum amount that may be paid out of AFIP to Motability is in line with the enhanced rate of the mobility component of PIP. The September 2023 CPI was 6.7%, so the instrument increases the rates by 6.7%.

What was the previous policy, how is this different?

- 5.2 The rate of AFIP was £172.75 with effect from 10 April 2023. The rate of AFIP is £184.30 with effect from 8 April 2024.
- 5.3 The maximum amount that may be paid out of AFIP to Motability was £71.00 with effect from 10 April 2023. The maximum amount that may be paid out of AFIP to Motability is £75.75 with effect from 8 April 2024.

6. Legislative and Legal Context

How has the law changed?

- 6.1 The instrument amends the Principal Order.
- 6.2 Article 4 amends article 24A of the Principal Order to increase the rate of AFIP which is designed to provide financial support to cover extra costs that a recipient of that benefit may incur as a result of a relevant injury. That amount is increased to £184.30 per week.
- 6.3 Article 5 amends article 24D of the Principal Order to increase the maximum amount that may be paid out of AFIP in settlement of liabilities due under an agreement between a claimant and Motability in respect of the hire or hire purchase of a vehicle. That amount is increased to £75.75 per week.

Why was this approach taken to change the law?

- 6.4 This is the only possible approach to make the necessary changes.

7. Consultation

Summary of consultation outcome and methodology

- 7.1 A consultation was not undertaken because no significant changes have been made to the policy.

8. Applicable Guidance

- 8.1 The instrument does not implement or require guidance.

Part Two: Impact and the Better Regulation Framework

9. Impact Assessment

- 9.1 A full Impact Assessment has not been prepared for this instrument because no, or no significant, impact on the private, voluntary or public sectors is foreseen.

Impact on businesses, charities and voluntary bodies

- 9.2 There is no, or no significant, impact on business, charities or voluntary bodies because this instrument provides for the annual increase in the rate of AFIP and the maximum amount that may be paid out of AFIP to Motability, and so has no direct effect on business, charities or voluntary bodies.
- 9.3 The legislation does not impact small or micro businesses.
- 9.4 There is no, or no significant, impact on the public sector because this increase in the rate of AFIP and the maximum amount that may be paid out of AFIP to Motability in line with inflation is built into financial forecasts.
