2009 No. 995

The Environmental Damage (Prevention and Remediation) (Wales) Regulations 2009

PART 3

Remediation

Action by the enforcing authority

23. Once it has established that in its opinion damage is environmental damage, the enforcing authority may carry out any reasonable works—

- (a) at any time if a responsible operator cannot be identified;
- (b) if a responsible operator fails to comply with a remediation notice, whether or not an appeal is pending; or
- (c) if the responsible operator is not required to remediate under these Regulations.

Changes to legislation:

There are currently no known outstanding effects for the The Environmental Damage (Prevention and Remediation) (Wales) Regulations 2009, Section 23.
